

Personal safety risk assessment form

Carry out a risk assessment of your premises and identify those at risk. Establish procedures and introduce control measures to reduce the possibility of risks to personal safety as much as possible.

The key elements are:

- ensure people are not left on their own, particularly when handling cash;
- ensure there is a method of raising the alarm in the event of an emergency;
- ensure all areas of the building, both inside and outside, are well lit and there are no places where people can loiter.

Have set procedures and information available for dealing with people looking for help.
